| Project Overview     | Food Consumer Behavior Analytics Portal is an end-to-end analytics project using 50,000 food transaction records to study consumer purchasing patterns across regions, age groups, meal types, spending patterns, and feedback ratings. The objective is to provide an interactive Tableau dashboard and integrate it into a Flask web application. |
| Data Collection Plan | The project uses the provided food transaction CSV dataset as the primary raw data source. The data is loaded into Tableau, checked and prepared for visualization, transformed with calculated fields, and used to build the final dashboard.                                                                                                      |

| Raw Data Sources Identified | Primary source: the project food transaction dataset supplied/available for the project, containing 50,000 transaction records in CSV format. No additional external raw source is required for the final dashboard. |
